THE WOLF-FACED MAN

LARGE TRACT OF LAND SECURED FOR HIM BY THE DIANDO FILM COMPANY

A tract of fifty acres of land has been secured by the Diando Film Corporation for the settings and production of the Pathe serial, "The Wolf-faced Man," written by W. A. S. Douglas and Lucien Hubbard, work on which was started this week.

The land lies about one mile beyond the present studio on Verdugo road and was selected because of the ruggedness of the surroundings synchronizing perfectly with the trend of the story plot. It is situated in a dead canyon running east and west, and is flanked on three sides by mountains, while across the valley to the west is a majestic range of hills which rear their heights far towards the sky.

Workmen have erected a large two-story log house, together with bunk house, stables, corrals, and other buildings have been constructed especially for this serial, and while apart from the main studio, will be kept in touch by the installation of a private telephone line.

Special lighting will be taken care of by the installation of a special lighting system with capacity sufficient for the most exacting demands.

The serial will consist of fifteen episodes of two reels each, the plot being western, and the following celebrated actors are among the cast: George Larkin, leading man, known as "Daredevil Larkin," because of the great chances he always takes in his hair-raising stunts; Betty Compson, leading woman, was formerly the star of the Christie comedies; Ora Carew, who used to head her own company with Mack Sennett; Horace B. Carpenter, who has the title role, has played leading parts with all the large film companies and is an actor of international reputation; William Quinn, another man of considerable reputation in films, is playing a prominent part; Fred Malatesta, the well-known Italian actor, Harry O'Connor, who has played with Dustin Farnum, Bessie Love and other stars; True Boardman, the star in the "Stingaree" pictures; and others under the direction of Stuart Paton, the former well-known Universal director, who filmed "Twenty Thousand Leagues Under the Sea," "The Grey Ghost," "Voice on the Wire," "Beloved Jim," and other large productions.

DEATH OF DAVID CROFTON, SR.

David Crofton, Sr., of St. Louis, Mo., father of David Crofton, Jr., of this city, following an illness of several months, died the first of the week and was buried Wednesday. His son was not able to go east to be with him at the last. He was one of the last of the old-time river pilots on the steamers which plied between St. Paul and New Orleans on the Mississippi river in the early days before the competition of the railroads drove them out of business.

SENDS THANKS

MISS WAITE RECEIVES LETTER FROM PROVOST MARSHAL GENERAL

Miss Ida M. Waite, principal of the Colorado boulevard school, who some weeks ago received a letter of appreciation from Adjt. General Borree for her work in preparing index cards of the questionnaires filed with the local exemption board, is just in receipt of a letter from Provost Marshal General Crowder himself. The following letter is evidence that the faithful work of Miss Waite and her assistants is appreciated:

War Department
Office of the Provost Marshal General
Washington, March 21, 1918.

Miss Ida M. Waite, Principal
Colorado St. Grammar School,
Glendale, Cal.

Dear Madam:

In view of the report received from the chairman of the Local Board No. 7 for Los Angeles county, the Provost Marshal General desires to express to you personally his thanks for your prompt, efficient and patriotic service and sacrifice in taking charge of the compilation of occupational cards for the industrial index file in this office. This task is at present the most vital link in the process of sending our army to France fully equipped for its task. Your share in the accomplishment of this necessary work entitles you to the gratitude of the Nation as one who has done her part faithfully and effectively.

By direction of Gen. Crowder.

Lt. Colonel J. A., N. A.

MEZZANINE LOGE READY

ITS DEDICATION AT PALACE GRAND IS SET FOR THURSDAY, APRIL 4

The beautiful mezzanine loge section of the Palace Grand, which has been building for several weeks, is nearing completion. The result, although it still lacks a few finishing touches, already justifies all the time, money and inconvenience it has cost, because it adds immeasurably to the fine appearance of the interior, especially when viewed from the front of the house.

An attractive and restful color scheme in general harmony with the main decoration is provided in the mottled green of the new woodwork, which closely approaches the tint of the aisle carpeting leading to the mezzanine steps, which will have a Wilton covering in black and green to match the other furnishings. The opera chairs are being placed and when tested demonstrate that a fine view will be had of the screen. The ventilating system insures good air at all times and it is probable that these mezzanine seats will be in request. In other parts of the house the woodwork has been touched up and brought into complete harmony with the new section.

These improvements have afforded an opportunity for the establishment of a new lighting plan which will make the Palace Grand second to none on this coast. Under the new system colors can be alternated, increased or dimmed at will and made to melt into a twilight rainbow tint that will add another attraction to this thoroughly up-to-date house. It is cause for congratulation that Glendale possesses a fine theatre under such enterprising management. It has cost money, but Jensen & Son are not niggardly and are determined to be in the van in their business. In carrying out their artistic designs they have been fortunate in securing the services of the Glendale scenic artist, Jacob Fink, who has taken a personal interest in the work. Further decorative features will be pro-

EASTER LUNCHEON

One of the most beautiful luncheons which has been enjoyed in Glendale recently was given Tuesday at one o'clock by Mrs. C. M. Van Dyke of 1430 West Third street. A cut glass bowl filled with yellow roses centered the table and gave the color motif which was further carried out in place cards and in the chickens, bunnies and other Easter novelties which contributed to make the appointments of the feast exceedingly pretty. It was a four-course affair and guests of honor were Mrs. Clara Cross of Lincoln, Nebraska, cousin of Mrs. Van Dyke, Mrs. Thompson of Fort Collins, Colorado, mother of Mrs. Chappell, and Miss Watson of Albuquerque, New Mexico, the house guest of Mrs. Blake Franklin. Other guests were Mrs. P. V. Porter, Mrs. J. H. Franklin, Mrs. Mabel Ocker, Mrs. Blake Franklin, Mrs. Sarah Van Dyke, Madame Havermill, Mrs. Albert Havermill, Mrs. H. W. Yarick, and Mesdames Vinton, Chappell, Challis and Kennedy. Following the luncheon a very pleasant afternoon was spent by the guests with knitting, singing, story telling, etc.

ATTEND THIS MEETING

Every man, woman and child is asked to attend the patriotic meeting at the High School Auditorium tonight. You are more than asked, you are requested to be there.

Two of the most virile, enthusiastic and interesting patriotic speakers obtainable have volunteered to talk to us. We owe it to them to see that the meeting is filled to overflowing.

They have a real message of utmost importance for the people of Glendale. They will tell us just what part America is playing in this war, what Uncle Sam is doing with the Liberty Bond money, and many other topics of vital interest.

Be sure and come and bring your friends.

MISS BESSIE SCHLADOR

The young friends of Miss Bessie Schlador, who lived in Glendale a year ago with her sister, Mrs. Middleton, at 415 North Maryland avenue, will be grieved to learn of the young lady's death in Los Angeles Wednesday night. During her residence in Glendale Bessie was a student at Glendale Union High School and a member of the Presbyterian Sunday School. She was about 19 years of age. She was a very sweet girl, whom to know was to love, and her passing will bring sadness to many hearts.

Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Brown Undertaking Parlors, 8th and Pico streets, Los Angeles.

ALLIES HAVE UPPER HAND

GEN. HAIG SAYS WHILE FIRST CRISIS HAS PASSED, BATTLE IS FAR FROM ENDED

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LONDON, March 28.—Repeated enemy attacks in the Somme valley, also in the neighborhood of Beaumont, Hammel, Pensileix and Monyanville were repulsed, Haig reported officially today.

"We captured prisoners and machine guns. Fierce fighting is under way on both banks of the Somme. There was a heavy bombardment east of Arras this morning where an attack is developing. Astride the Somme last night there was much severe fighting, also north of Albert and Poyelles," the report stated.

Despite the temporary advantage to the British undue optimism regarding the immediate checking of the German drive must be guarded against, officials pointed out.

"The first crisis is past, but the battle is far from ended. The character of the next phase depends on whether the Germans are able to replace the wasted and exhausted divisions and bring up new, vast materials and supplies," Gen. Haig said.

GERMANS TAKE MONTDIDIER

CAPTURE CAME AS SURPRISE WHILE GERMANS WERE BEING HELD AT PRACTICALLY ALL POINTS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

PARIS, March 28.—The abandonment of Montdidier has been admitted by the French war office.

Montdidier is an important railroad and highway center ten miles west of South Roye, 21 miles southeast of Amiens, 18 miles west and north of Moyon and 30 miles due west of Tertnier, which marks the German line before the offensive.

Montdidier has a population of 40,000. Its capture came as a surprise during a day otherwise apparently showing that the Germans were being held in check at practically all points.

Commanded by two of the most brilliant French generals, the French are blocking German progress. The enemy is seeking to force his way down the narrow Oise valley and turn the entire French wing.

Other enemy forces to the north are seeking to throw the British back toward the North Sea, aiming to crush both the allied armies.

Dunkirk has been under bombardment from long distance guns for several days. Few casualties are reported.

Yesterday evening the battle continued with unceasing violence, the war office reported.

The enemy was checked by valiant troops who suffered severely near Noyon along the left bank of the Oise.

The Germans concentrated against our left, launching a great force against Montdidier, where fighting of extraordinary violence took place, and we retired in good order to the west heights of Montdidier.

On the west front there is intermittent bombardment.

AUSTRIA REPORTS SUCCESS

WAR OFFICE REPORT STATES TEUTON ATTACKS HAVE WON GROUND ON THE WESTERN FRONT

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

VIENNA, March 28.—Our attacks have again won ground on the west front, the Austrian war office reported today.

In Venetia on the Italian front, there is lively local artillering, the report stated.

AMERICANS RELEASE FRENCH TROOPS

NO CHANGE IN TOUL FRONT WHERE SAMMIES ARE STATIONED—EXCHANGE OF ARTILLERING CONTINUES

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE, March 28.—American troops are contributing such help as is possible to stem the German tide by releasing French troops to participate in the big battle.

The Toul front continues unchanged with an exchange of artillery and gas shells.

Both sides are laying down barrages. There is a general high tension.

CUT DOWN PARCEL SHIPMENTS TO FRANCE

NEW ORDER PROHIBITS PACKAGES TO SOLDIERS ABROAD EXCEPT UPON REQUEST

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, March 28.—We must strip for action, was the official warning of Acting Chief of Staff March in the light of the pressing appeal written from France by General Pershing for more ships for troops and army munitions.

To be able to comply with this appeal an order has been given cutting down parcel shipments to France as a most urgent war necessity.

Hereafter parcels will be sent to France only on soldiers' requests.

PAGEANT PLEASES

ARTISTIC PERFORMANCE IN BEAUTIFUL SETTING DELIGHTS LARGE AUDIENCE

The Shakespearean Pageant, with its musical accessories, given Wednesday evening by the Shakespeare Section of the Tuesday Club at the Masonic Temple as a Red Cross benefit, was one of the most artistic performances that has ever been given in Glendale. The audience thoroughly appreciated the fact, too, as was shown by the frequency and enthusiasm of its applause.

A pageant to be a success must have the right setting and must be preceded by the proper stimuli for the audience. These factors were present in large measure Wednesday night. The setting was the first pleasure experienced by the eye on entering the hall, its warm red walls so beautiful a background for a lovely scheme of decoration credited to Mrs. J. Glenwood Jones and carried out through the able assistance of an excellent committee. In every window was a window box of greenery and a "sweet confusion" of flowers, none too much and just the right sorts. The stage had been enlarged to span the hall from north to south and its background wall had been draped with English ivy. Ivy tendrils peeped out from other and unexpected places and the color note was extended in massed greenery of bamboo, ferns, evergreens, etc., artfully disposed where they were most effective. Flowers were sparingly used and confined to the acacia's bloom. But there was color in plenty supplied by the oriental rugs, couches and pillows with which the stage was set, by the beautiful gold-fringed flag well to the fore, and by the very beautiful costumes of the pageant.

To develop in the audience an appreciative mood, a beautiful musical program by three solo artists and a charming accompanist had been provided. These were Mr. and Mrs. John Marquardt of Glendale, violinist and harpist, who simply delighted their hearers. Mr. Marquardt is a sturdy, intelligent musician of the best type with fine technique and not too sentimental. Mrs. Marquardt is no less pleasing in her specialty. Miss Lillian Scanlon Gee has a rich contralto voice and won sincere applause. Miss Champlain's work as accompanist was beyond praise. She too is a Glendale artist.

Mr. Marquardt opened the concert with Ballade and Polonaise, which showed a great amount of versatility in expression and technique and the

HIKE TO MT. LOWE SUMMIT

A jolly hiking party consisting of Henry Van Pelt of 117 North Central avenue, Glendale, and his three brothers, Dick Van Pelt, Albert Van Pelt, Leendard Van Pelt, all of Orange City, Iowa, who are spending the winter here, left Pasadena at 11:30 Monday bound for the summit of Mt. Lowe. These four brothers are aged 59, 69, 64 and 60 years respectively, but no men of fewer years have covered the distance with more agility and more enjoyed the beauties and wonders of the hike than these four. They were accompaneid by Mr. and Mrs. Harry V. Chase and two sons, Harry and Davie, Emma van den Berg of Ocean Park and Virney and Virgie Van Pelt of Orange City, Iowa. The party hiked the entire distance from Pasadena to Alpine Tavern, where they spent the night, and joined Mesdames D. Van Pelt, Albert Van Pelt and Henry Van Pelt, who took the car to the Tavern. The following morning the entire party hiked to the summit of the mountain and back to the hotel, leaving there at 1:15 p. m. for the return trip. They walked all the way back to Pasadena and suffered no ill effects from the long hike. They say the scenery was well worth the effort.

JOHN ROMAN IS IN BUSINESS

The Dustin-Roman Auto Top Company, which started operation in their new building at 1041-47 South Figueroa street, which covers 100x170 feet, and has been built especially for automobile work and with best of modern equipment, is well filled with different makes of cars to be "dolled" up.

Mr. Dustin, who is an expert in this line and has been in this business all his life, has a new way of building special solid tops that will keep their shape for the life of the car.

Mr. Roman, who has been a resident of Glendale for seven years, is well known in our city, and will be pleased to have his friends call on him for estimates in this line of work and will see that they are pleased with same.

HEYNS ON AGGASIZ

MAN AND WIFE ON CAPTURED GERMAN RAIDER FORMER GLENDALE PEOPLE

The capture of the "Agassiz," an auxiliary schooner, which has been declared to be a German raider outfitted by Germans now in Mexico and which has just been brought into port by an American war ship, is of local interest because it is believed that two of the prisoner-passengers, described as Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius A. Heintz, have been residents of Glendale. J. H. Baird, formerly connected with Payne & Moode and now with the Christie Grocery Company, says he is confident they are the same people, although the name is spelled differently.

According to Mr. Baird, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Heyn came to Glendale from Mazatlan, Mexico, and located at 1451 Myrtle street. Mr. Heyn was of the blond German type, his wife a Spanish woman. Their children, who resembled their mother, attended the public schools here. Mr. Heyn claimed to be the agent of the Wells Fargo Company at Mazatlan. He was a very pleasant, agreeable gentleman to meet and there was nothing in his manner or speech to create any distrust of his loyalty to this governmetn except some bitterness which he expressed against President Wilson for not going into Mexico and straightening out conditions there, where he claimed to have large holdings of land. His business relations with all who had dealings with him were entirely satisfactory and he was never suspected of being an alien enemy. A few months ago they left here to return to Mazatlan.

The captain who brought in the "Agassiz" reports finding a secret cipher, a German flag, a small quantity of rifles, revolvers and ammunition and other belongings which indicate raiding intentions. Rumors are circulating that Germans are outfitting similar craft at several other Mexican ports.

THE NEW WAR SONG

A floral novelty seen in the shop of the Glendale Phonograph and Piano Company on Brand boulevard Wednesday was a bouquet of yellow lupin, which grows wild in great abundance in the neighborhood of San Francisco, but which is not often seen here. The shop window was gay with copies of the new war song composed by Messrs. Julius Kranz and Walter Richardson of this city, which is entitled "Just Leave It to Your Uncle Sam." It has a red, white and blue cover centered with a typical picture of Uncle Sam. The song is to be given for the first time in Glendale tonight (Thursday) at the Palace Grand Theatre, and will be sung by Leo Goode, also of Glendale. Little Warner Moode, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Moode of 1451 Vine street, dressed in an Uncle Sam suit, will feature the chorus.

SHOW YOUR SPIRIT

GREAT RESULTS MADE POSSIBLE BY INDIVIDUAL EFFORT IN THE WAR

It's mighty good to see the number of vacant lots under cultivation in Glendale. This is an important part of the war work and it has been nobly responded to. There is still work to be done along this line and we must not slacken in our efforts.

The results of this work are plainly brought home to every one of us. You remember what you were paying for the homely but very essential potato this time a year ago. About five times what we now pay. This is just one example of the results obtained when we get together and start out to definitely do something.

While our boys are bravely facing Germany's war-mad legions, we are soon to have another opportunity to show our spirit at home.

We know that we must win this war. America must do her full part. We must do our full part or America can not. The Third United States Liberty Loan Drive starts April 6th.

In a crisis like this the people must be willing to give everything—if need be. The sooner this is realized by all the sooner the war will end.

SCHOOL ELECTION

Tomorrow, March 29th, an election of School Trustees for the Grammar and the High School Districts of Glendale will be held at Union High School from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. John Todd's term of office as Grammar School trustee expires and he is a candidate to succeed himself. On the High School Board the terms of office of Hartley Shaw and Dr. A. L. Bryant expire.

ALWAYS GETS REPLIES

Mrs. J. B. Smith of 1437 West Seventh street, who has been advertising in this paper a house to rent, has given instructions to remove the ad. because it has done its work and a tenant has been secured. Mrs. Smith volunteered the information that she always receives answers when she advertises in this paper.

MISSIONARY MEETING

The Woman's Missionary Society of the First Presbyterian Church of Glendale, which was obliged to postpone its meeting at the regular time on account of wet weather, met Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Roy King on Jackson and Second streets. The program was in charge of Mesdames McCurdy and Wilkins. About thirty-five ladies were present.

Mrs. McClelland of Los Angeles, President of the Presbyterial, was a guest and gave an interesting talk along general lines of missionary work. Mrs. Cameron Johnson gave a report of the annual meeting of the Presbyterial Society.

The new president, Mrs. Z. L. Hesse, was presented with a beautiful bouquet of violets and freesias by the retiring president, Mrs. M. P. Harrison. Light refreshments were served and a social half hour was enjoyed over the teacups.

J. C. KOONS,
First Assistant Postmaster General.

EMILY ELLIAS SMALLEY

Mrs. Emily Ellias-Smalley, who passed away Sunday at her residence on Sierra Road, was widely and affectionately known to the people of Tropico and Glendale, among whom she had lived since coming to the Valley as a child in 1900. After graduating from the Glendale Grammar School in 1907, she entered the Glendale Union High School, graduating from there in June, 1911. During her attendance at High School she took an active interest in both social and athletic affairs. She was captain of the girls' basket ball team one year and manager another. She was treasurer of the High School Athletic Association and as in all her work performed her duties with great care. During her senior year, she was exchange editor of the school publication, the Stylus, and where can we find a better tribute than her class paid her in that annual—

"Fair and wondrous virtue."—Shakespeare.

As it was Emily's desire to become a teacher, she entered the Normal School in the fall of 1911. Before completing her course here she went east and entered the Northwestern University at Evanston, remaining there five months. Passing her examinations satisfactorily, she returned to Los Angeles Normal and completed her teacher's course, making many close friendships among the students and faculty that have lasted throughout her short but beautiful life with us.

In June, 1914, Miss Ellias was elected the president of the Alumni Association of the Glendale Union High. She took a very active and intense interest as executive in all their affairs for two busy years. The successful production of "Polly of the Circus" to obtain funds for the Alumni Scholarship Fund is well remembered, the success of which was due in no small degree to her deep love for her Association.

In the fall of 1914 she was appointed teacher in the Tropico Grammar School, in the same school in which she had been a pupil and being an inexperienced teacher, the appointment was gratifying as a recognition of her personal worth and ability shown during her attendance at Normal. She continued teaching at Tropico for two and a half years in charge of the Third and Fourth Grades, and she was also School Librarian for the entire time.

Resigning her position in the Tropico School she was united in marriage to John N. Smalley on February first, 1917, the outcome of a friendship since her early school girl days. Mrs. Smalley leaves a lovely daughter to comfort her devoted husband.

Through all her life Emily won by her loving and unselfish disposition not only the highest respect and esteem, but also the love of all with whom she came in contact to a very unusual degree, and the recollection of Emily's dear presence will ever remain as a sweet and helpful memory to her wide circle of friends and relatives.

A TRIBUTE TO EMILY

In the passing of Mrs. Emily Smalley, who as a little girl was familiarly known to many of the residents of Glendale and Tropico as "Little Emily," those knowing her join in paying tribute to the memory of one of the sweetest flowers that ever grew, blossomed into maturity, and petal by petal as does the prematurely blighted rose, passed on into the Great Unknown.

We speak of this dear girl in the language of the flowers because there is nothing else comes to mind in all nature that so closely resembles the delicate, sweet and lovable character that radiated from her soul.

Where is the one who can remember an unkind look or word coming from her? A child of nature, pure and simple. In time she became a product of our schools and in turn became a teacher there. Her influence over her school children was remarkable. Once one of her scholars was asked if his teacher was ever cross to him, and he said, "No, when we do wrong she just looks sorry, and so we never do it again." This tells the whole life story of one whom we all love so dearly, and whose mortal being we have laid away this day.

Whatever of regret we may have on this occasion must be commingled with joy at the thought that somewhere others will be made happier by the presence of which we, for a time, are to be denied.

EASTER PREPARATIONS

Special services are being held by Rev. B. C. Cory, pastor of the Tropico Methodist Church, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday afternoons this week in preparation for the Sacrament Service Friday evening.

Sunday morning the Sunday School will blend its service with the Church Service, beginning at 10 o'clock under the new time. The first part of the service will be occupied by the Sunday School in an exercise entitled, "Life for the Nations." At the conclusion of that exercise District Superintendent A. R. Moore will preach, and the sermon will be followed by reception for baptism and reception of new members. Twenty-seven children were received into the church last Sunday, and a good many adults will be received next Sunday who will come in by profession of faith and by letter. Special Easter music by the choir will also feature the service.

At the evening service there will be special solo numbers by visiting singers, and an author reading of Easter poems by Pastor Cory with explanatory talks describing the Biblical setting. As the fact that Mr. Cory is a poet-preacher has not been known to all the members of the congregation, the service will be one of unusual interest and especially appropriate to the occasion.

FLOOD CONTROL BONDS

The question of permitting Los Angeles county to float flood control bonds will be heard before the capital issues committee of the federal reserve board next Friday. This advice was received by the supervisors. Former United States Senator Frank P. Flint, H. W. O'Melveny, J. W. Reagan, flood control engineer, and C. H. Windham, civil service commissioner, will leave on Thursday to appear at the hearing.

CANADIAN SUGAR

Canada's production of sugar beets last year has been officially estimated at 117,600 tons from 14,000 acres, compared with 71,000 tons from 15,000 acres in 1916.

Mrs. Stuart, wife of the first pastor of the Tropico Presbyterian church, is visiting old friends in this city for a few days.

The church and Sunday School services at the Tropico Presbyterian Church will be combined next Sunday and will begin at 10:30 a. m.

Mrs. J. H. Springer of 1630 Oak street will be hostess today (Thursday) at a small luncheon in honor of Mrs. Frank Brown and Mrs. James Berry.

Will Hewett of 671 Gardena avenue, who enlisted as a photographer in the Aviation Corps, is now in an American army camp at Feltwell, England.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Gibbs of Corona have been visiting their daughter, Mrs. James Wallace of 301 Glendale avenue (Tropico district). They left for Corona Wednesday.

Riley Lyons, who for more than five years was engaged in the grocery business at 572 West Broadway, and who resided at 428 South Louise street, has moved with his family to Long Beach. Mr. Lyons is conducting a store at the ship yards, San Pedro.

W. A. S. Douglas, president of the Diando Film Corporation, has just returned from a hurried trip to New York, where he was in consultation with Lucien Hubbard, his co-author of "The Wolf-faced Man," the Pathe serial being made by his company with studios on Verdugo road.

Little Gerald Adams, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Merritt Adams of 443 South Pacific avenue, and grandson of Mrs. A. Lowinsky of 238 South Central avenue, has been very ill of pneumonia and for several days his life was despaired of, but he is better and hopes of his recovery are entertained.

Mrs. Sadler, who has had charge of the Hospital Garments Department of the Glendale Red Cross Chapter on Mondays, has been called to San Francisco by the illness of a relative and is likely to be gone for some time. She is much missed by Mrs. Lawrence Ellis, the Chairman of the Department.

A sweet potato which reproduces almost perfectly in its conformation the outlines of a seal, even to eyes, nose, whiskers and the suggestion of feet, was brought to the office of this paper by C. E. Stanley, of 336 Everett street, who picked it out of stock in a Glendale grocery store. It is a most interesting curio.

Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Proctor, former proprietors of Hotel Tropico, have recently purchased a one-story apartment house consisting of nine two-room apartments at 428 South Hope street, Los Angeles. They have a back yard in which they are planning to raise garden truck and chickens, and are much pleased with their new location.

John MacBain and wife, who are spending a few weeks in Southern California enjoying the mild climate and seeing points of interest, were visitors at the Diando studios Wednesday, getting their first glimpse of how "movies" are made. Mr. MacBain is manager of the Matador Land and Cattle company with vast holdings running into millions of acres of land in Texas and Montana. He says that where formerly his company was content to receive $50 a head, net, for cattle, now they are getting $150 for them, and that really it is a shame to take the money, but what can the cattle raisers do when they are offered this sum, but take it?

Miss Florence Martin, who formerly had charge of the office of the Southern California Edison Company on San Fernando boulevard, is spending the balance of the winter with a cousin in Pasadena.

Fifty members of Glendale Lodge No. 1289 B. P. O. E., including officers and drill team, attended the initiation ceremonies put on at Los Angeles Lodge 99 Wednesday evening, which were conducted by officers of the Glendale organization.

PRAYER MEETINGS TONIGHT

Neighborhood prayer meetings will be held tonight by the Christian Church at the homes of H. R. Stevenson, 1452 Pioneer drive, M. H. Berry, 1429 Lomita, J. W. Wright, 330 Everett, and C. E. Hutton, 900 Colorado. These meetings are attracting a good deal of attention, and neighbors and friends of the church are availing themselves of the opportunity of these meetings for this time of crisis.

DINNER AND THEATRE PARTY

Mrs. Malcolm McLaren and Mrs. Charles Grist entertained Wednesday evening with a dinner and theatre party in celebration of the birthdays of their daughters, Irene and Elene, who are of the same age and whose birthdays occur this month. At the dinner, which was served at the home of Mrs. Grist at 131 South Brand boulevard, and which was a very pretty four-course luncheon, covers were laid for members of the families of the two guests of honor and for Fred Slack of Eagle Rock and Corporal Albert Wheelon of San Pedro. A color scheme of white and lavender was carried out in floral decorations with violets and carnations and in place cards which were in the form of Easter eggs artistically painted by Miss Laura Roberts. Following the dinner the guests spent the evening at the Orpheum.

FAMILY DINNER

A delightful but quite impromptu family dinner took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Ellis of 537 South Kenwood street, in honor of two cousins of Mr. Ellis who arrived unexpectedly from Indiana via San Francisco, Monday. That all the relatives might have an opportunity to enjoy the pleasure, they were summoned to the dinner function which was quite informal. The special guests, Mrs. Landis and Miss Elizabeth Landis, drove from San Francisco in a new car which has just been given to Miss Elizabeth, who is but twenty years of age, by her uncle. The trip was not without its difficulties and the ladies got over the Ridge Route just before it was closed on account of washouts. Miss Landis is equal to any ordinary emergency, however, and they arrived without mishap of any kind, either to themselves or their automobile. Other guests entertained were Mrs. Sarah Ellis, Miss Patience Ellis, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. O'Haver and their daughter Miss Elene O'Haver, all of Los Angeles, and Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Ravenscroft of this city. It was a delightful affair to all who participated.

W. C. T. U. MEETING

The West Glendale W. C. T. U. met March 26 at 2:30 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Pierce on Oak street.

The meeting was opened by singing "America." Mrs. Cook led in the devotional services.

The money which has been collected in the war drive by this union was handed to the treasurer, amounting to $75. The soliciting in this district is not completed and we expect by the first of April to have collected $200.

Mrs. Wm. Woods was elected recording secretary as the former secretary, Mrs. Pierce, is unable to continue her duties on account of illness.

It was decided by vote that in the future we will meet only once a month. The meeting was closed by singing Praise God from Whom All Blessings Flow.

GOOD ELECTION ADVICE

An election is called to be held
In Glendale on April Eight,
To choose men for important posts,
So don't overlook the date.

Two men for trustees we want,
Men that are staunch and true;
One each for treasurer and clerk,
Who have these qualities too.

If it's wise to follow the rule
By which good business men go,
We'll return to his place on the board
The efficient, experienced "Joe."

From that recently annexed part,
The "Gateway" without a flaw,
Choose the most fit and capable man.
The Honorable Hartley Shaw.

For the other two elective jobs,
Better men are hard to procure,
And to make any changes there,
Would be a mistake—that's sure!

So it's Thompson and Shaw for me,
And Sherer and Stauffacher, too,
And after you've looked them all o'er,
They'll also look good to you.

C. H. MUHLEMAN.

BABY MARIE AT PALACE GRAND

Glendale's own movie queen, Baby Marie Osborne, appears again at the Palace Grand Theatre Friday night of this week in "Daddy's Girl," the latest release of this clever Pathe star.

Besides Baby Marie, the grown-ups in the cast are the well-known actors and actresses, Herbert Standing, Lewis J. Cody, now playing leading man for Edith Storey, Marion Warner and Katherine McLaren. The juveniles are largely from Glendale and vicinity.

The plot of the story hinges around the fortune left Marie's mother by her uncle, the following dissipation of her father. Baby Marie's persuasiveness is so strong that her father gives up his fast life and returns to his family and they enjoy the luxuries and happiness provided by love and wealth.

There is quite a bit of humor intermingled with the drama and Sambo, the little colored boy, is again prominent in his comedy roles.

The trade papers are all unanimous in praising the acting of Baby Marie and supporting company and claim it is one of the best examples of histrionic art the baby grand star has appeared in on the screen.

The story is by the well-known authors, John W. Grey and M. Ramiriz Torres, and they have provided many opportunities for the baby to display her powers. It is a good picture with a wholesome plot, as are all of her pictures, and it will afford our readers a pleasant evening to go and see "Daddy's Girl."

ST. MARK'S EPISCOPAL CHURCH

Tomorrow, Good Friday, there will be Morning Prayer at 10:00 a. m. On Saturday afternoon there will be Baptism in the church. Easter Day, March 31st, Holy Communion, 7:30 and 11:00 a. m. Choir rehearsals for Easter music this afternoon at 3:30 and tomorrow, Friday, night at 7:30 at church.

APPRECIATION

We wish to extend our heartfelt thanks and gratitude to the many kind friends that assisted us in so many ways in our recent affliction, and for the many beautiful floral tributes to the memory of her who has passed on.

PAGEANT PLEASES

rousing nature of the rendition called for an encore, "Hobgoblins" by Bazzini.

The vocal number next by Lillian Scanlon Gee was greatly enjoyed.

Mrs. Marquardt's golden harp is of course the main attraction on any program, and with her manipulation of this difficult instrument, sometimes softly murmuring and then loudly acclaiming in sonorous chords, she received great applause and an encore had to be responded to.

The winding up of the program by numbers for violin and harp was enchanting to the audience. The Marquardts always have something good to offer and they gave us Dvorak's Humoresque as an encore.

Miss Champlain's accompaniment of the violin numbers was a treat.

The Shakespearean Pageant was a highly satisfactory demonstration of local talent in more ways than one, for it was entirely original and spontaneous. Beginning with a simple pantomime it grew into a spectacle of much greater proportions, the combined product of members of the class working together with their teacher, Mrs. C. B. McClure of the Galpin Shakespeare Club. They were fortunate in having a variety of beauty, talent and wit well adapted to the characters they wished to portray, and the smoothness of the production was half its charm.

Miss Loie Hunt as a herald could not have been improved. With the serious, detached mien of a true herald she led the advance from the rear of the hall to the stage, maintaining her statuesque pose to the last, announcing each comer in clarion tones and fitting phrase.

Mrs. Theodore F. Peirce was Puck incarnate and perfectly charming in her spangled green satin doublet and cloak. The fairies who accompanied her and who in real life are known as Patricia Peirce, Marjorie Temple and Elizabeth Sawyer, were darlings, especially Patricia, who grew alarmed as the court increased and wept like a real child, to the sympathetic amusement of the audience.

Rosalind and Touchstone, legweary with much wandering to reach the Forest of Arden, as explained in their dialogue, were excellent characterizations by Mrs. George Squires and Mrs. I. S. Levitt.

Mrs. Jesse Josephs as Cleopatra was truly regal and Egyptian, and her attendant, Josephine Franklin, a fitting satellite.

Delightful comedy was supplied by the Romeo and Juliet Quartette, which enacted Act II, Scenes 5 and 6. The nurse (Mrs. C. E. Norton) has never been bettered on the stage. The shambling Peter (Miss Mary Hunt) was true to character, Mrs. Gertrude Follansbee as Juliet was an interpretative revelation, and Mrs. L. N. Rudy a consistent Romeo.

The difficult scene between the student Hamlet and the distracted Ophelia was well carried off by Mrs. J. Glenwood Jones as Hamlet and Mrs. Edna Sawyer, whose beautiful hair fits her especially for the typical Ophelia.

The dialogue between Portia and Nerissa, personated by Mrs. W. E. Hewitt and Mrs. Harry T. Lockwood, Merchant of Venice, Act V, Scene 1, was another pleasing bit, and the audience showed its approval of Shylock as presented by Mrs. E. D. Yard.

The closing scene, from Winter's Tale, Act V, was the most elaborate of the evening. Mrs. George Reuter was most effective as the cruel but repentant King Leontes who comes with newly found daughter Perdita (Mrs. Gladys Gibbs Sherman) and accompanied by Florizel (Mrs. W. E. Halstead) and Camillo (Mrs. Joseph Renshaw) to view the statute of Queen Hermione (Mrs. C. H. Temple), whom Paulina Mrs. A. M. Hunt) has promised to reveal. All the parts were so well taken, from the statue-like posing of the queen to the friendly offices of Paulina, that for a few breathless minutes it seemed like the real play. As the scene dissolved, the other actors reassembled on the stage and were dismissed by Puck, who again appeared with her fairies, the herald again leading the pageant followed by the king and retinue.

The entertainment closed with unison singing of the "Star-Spangled Banner," led by Miss Gee, with harp, violin and piano accompaniment.

Incidental music in connection with the pageant was furnished by Mrs. Alma Stowell Gibbs.

While the pageant was the work of the Shakespeare Section, the entire membership of the Tuesday Club co-operated in one way or another to make it the big success it was.

The hall was crowded with a most appreciative audience, and as the chief expense was borne by members of the Section, there will be a goodly sum to donate to the Red Cross.

BOY SCOUTS CALLED INTO ACTION

The Secretary of the Treasury,
Washington, March 13, 1918.

To the Boy Scouts of America:

Once more you are called into active service. You are asked to organize for an intensive house to house canvass during the last part of the third Liberty Loan campaign for subscriptions which might not otherwise be secured. This is the particular service that has been assigned to the Boy Scouts of America.

In each community there are efficiently organized local Liberty loan committees, and you are expected, as heretofore, prior to your own special campaign, to do such work for these committees as may be requested of you.

You will find the members of these committees, as well as the bankers, appreciative of your labors and willing to co-operate in the special campaign of the Boy Scouts of America.

I have been deeply impressed by the tireless energy and splendid spirit of helpfulness which you have shown in all your war activities, and I sincerely hope and confidently expect that in the third Liberty loan you will surpass all previous records for service to your country.

Sincerely, yours,
W. G. McADOO,
Secretary of the Treasury.

NEW INDUSTRY AT VAN NUYS

Van Nuys is rejoicing over the prospect of a new industry to be established there by George Beals, a well known nurseryman, and L. C. Kimball, Jr., a business man and fruit grower of Owensmouth. They are to undertake the drying of fruit on a large scale, and will rush the building of their plant to be ready to handle this season's crop.

The plant, as outlined, will comprise a main warehouse 100x40 feet, a green fruit shed 40x40, a cutting shed 40x75, and large sulphur houses. All the buildings will front on North Sherman Way.

There will be between 4,000, and 5,000 feet of track in the yards, and the plant will be equipped with the latest improved drying apparatus.

The plant will represent an investment of about $25,000.

Peaches, pears, plums, apricots, and other varieties of fruits will be handled, and it is estimated that the amount of green fruit to be dried this coming season will be close to 1500 tons.

Several hundred people will be employed during the drying season.

MEZZANINE LOGE READY

vided by the two scenes which will be staged above the exits on either side of the rostrum. These will be fine landscapes which will be changed from time to time.

Music has not been forgotten as an accessory. Changes have been made in the players' pit which will make possible an orchestra of ten pieces. Up to this time a three-piece orchestra has been employed. After the opening which will dedicate the new section, a seven-piece orchestra will entertain during the interludes. Other novelties of great interest not yet revealed are promised and all things point to an aggressive theatrical policy which will make Glendale sit up and take notice and that will incidentally fill the house from the orchestra circle to the topmost seat in the mezzanine at all performances, which are to be increased in number.

The formal opening will take place Aprii 4th, when Enid Bennett will be seen in "The Keys of the Righteous," an Ince production full of tense situations and primeval passions. There will be a matinee on that day and every day thereafter. The management is not counting on filling its house at every performance, but it is building for the future. It has spared no expense to secure the pleasure and comfort of its patrons and says that in the line of films the best is none too good for Glendale; that the future will bring recompense if the present does not. The mezzanine, as before stated, will be thrown open to the public April 4th. It will seat about 200 and will be of great advantage when special productions which crowd the house are put on. April 4th will be a red-letter day in the history of the Palace Grand.
